Special Announcement!

The near approach of the Holiday Season warns us to begin reducing our stock of Silks, Satins, Brocades, Velvets, etc., and this cause alone would be sufficient to load our counters with bargains, besides the enor-ous quantity of goods which we have bought and paid for and must either be sold or carried over, compels us to place these goods at prices that will wipe them out. In addition to which we have large consignments that will also be offered during the coming week at less than usual wholesale prices.

Our method of forcing the sale of goods by offering them sure of goods by offering them at "a price" is well known, and intending purchasers will surely take advantage of these opportunities whenever we make such an announcement.
